His career furnishes a bright example to the young, especially to those dependent, wholly or in part, upon their own individual efforts for success in life. S. S. Bryan, as toastmaster, announced that he had received several hundred letters and telegrams, requesting him to extend compliments and felicitations to Mr. Seep, and had also received a number of telegrams and letters of regret from friends who, through great distance, illness or business engagements which could not possibly be ignored, were unable to be present. He had selected the following out of this number: I much regret that I shall be deprived of the pleasure of being present at the dinner to be given in Titusville by your friends in honor of your seventieth birthday. Please accept my hearty congratulations on this happy occasion, and best wishes for many joyous...
